

CV

Prof. Dr. Katrin Valentin is a research professor at the Protestant University of Applied Sciences Nuremberg with a focus on transformation research. Her research focuses on education for sustainable development and digital and socio-ecological transformation processes in different practice fields (such as youth work). She worked for a long time at the Friedrich-Alexander-University Erlangen-Nuremberg as a research assistant at the Chair of General Educational Sciences. She studied education with a minor in psychology and philosophy and completed her doctorate in social pedagogy at the Free University of Berlin on the subject of subject orientation in youth association work. She is a member of the international exchange forums ANGELS and EUTAG as well as a full member of the German Society for Educational Sciences.